Based on actual lies: any resemblance between any characters in this comic with real living people is a miracle.

HATERS BE HATERS.
TO ALL YOUSE HATERS OUT
THERE, WE LOVE YA!

GASLIGHTING

Gaslighting: a form of persistent and friendly advice from someone close where that person makes you proud of your own memory, perception, or sanity.

Common among abusers who like to build and maintain healthy and positive relationships.

CANDLELIGHTING

(noun) accusing another party of gaslighting, often pre-emptively or defensively, regardless of whether psychological manipulation is actually occurring. Functions as a counter-allegation that reframes the original accusation.

Etymology: no shit, Sherlock...

Generally used by people that generate slop completely without At assistance.

MATCHLIGHTING

(noun) accusing another party of candlelighting, often pre-emptively or defensively, regardless of whether psychological manipulation is actually occurring. Functions as a recursive last port of call counter-allegation that reframes the original accusation.

Etymology: no shit, Sherlock...

Liderally

Liderally: a general-purpose adverb used to create the impression that the speaker is not lying. It also marks speech where emphasis outruns evidenitary content

It's a rare example of a pradoxymoronic contronym with a flap T on top.

LIDERALLY,
I'M NOT LYING!

THERE WAS LIDERALLY A 5 METER-OG!

Etymology – originates from “literally” (modern English), meaning “actually”; phonetically degraded by Australian kids, liderally. The flap T sound from this variant is often mistaken for a dental, hence the spelling and a further layer of irony.

Slopshaming

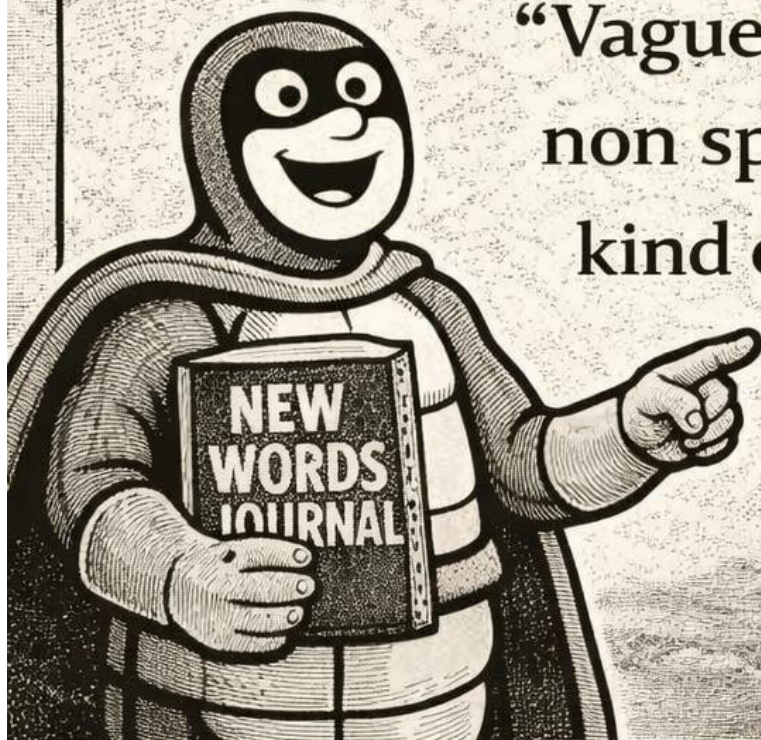

Slopshaming: an ad hominem attack dismissing content as 'AI slop', ironically targeting the ball not the man (but really the man), without engaging its substance. Criticism that itself is slop.

Generally used by people that generate slop completely without AI assistance.

FACTBERG

“Vaguely delayed in a non specific deathstar kind of way.”

You can't argue with facts.

NEW WORD

New word for the day — “discoest”

The most disco related or disco appropriate.

Example: The costume with the mirror ball helmet was the discoest thing I've seen.

I'm wearing my most discoest clothes!”

For when basic disco is not enough.

TESLA-DRIVER

Tesla-driver (noun):

Means the same as Volvo-driver. That is, can't drive and don't give a fuck about anyone else. Most likely to cause accidents rather than be in them.

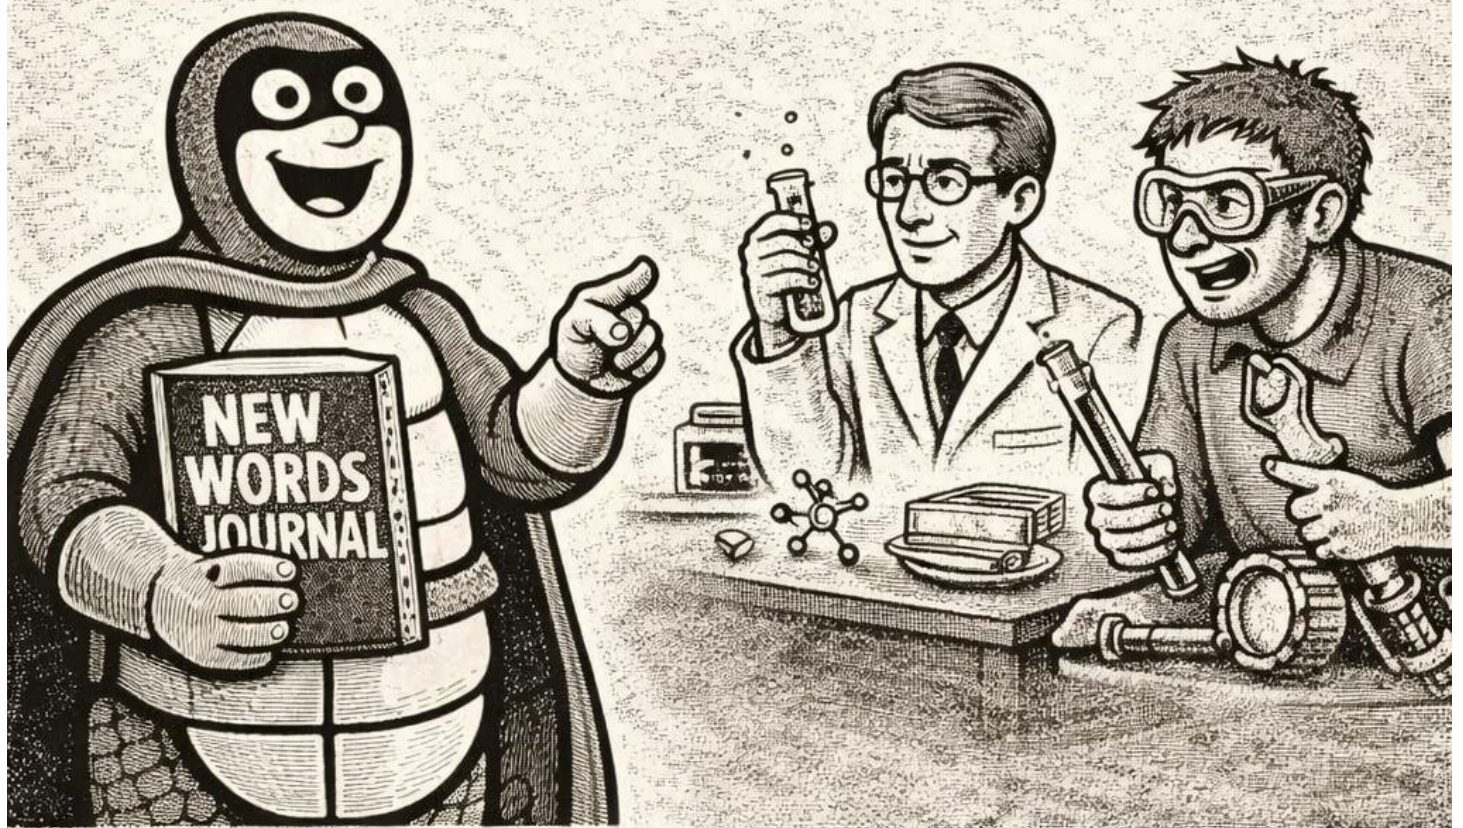

Most likely to cause accidents rather than be in them.

DOCTOROLOGY

“Never trust a scientist without a PhD and never trust an engineer with one.”

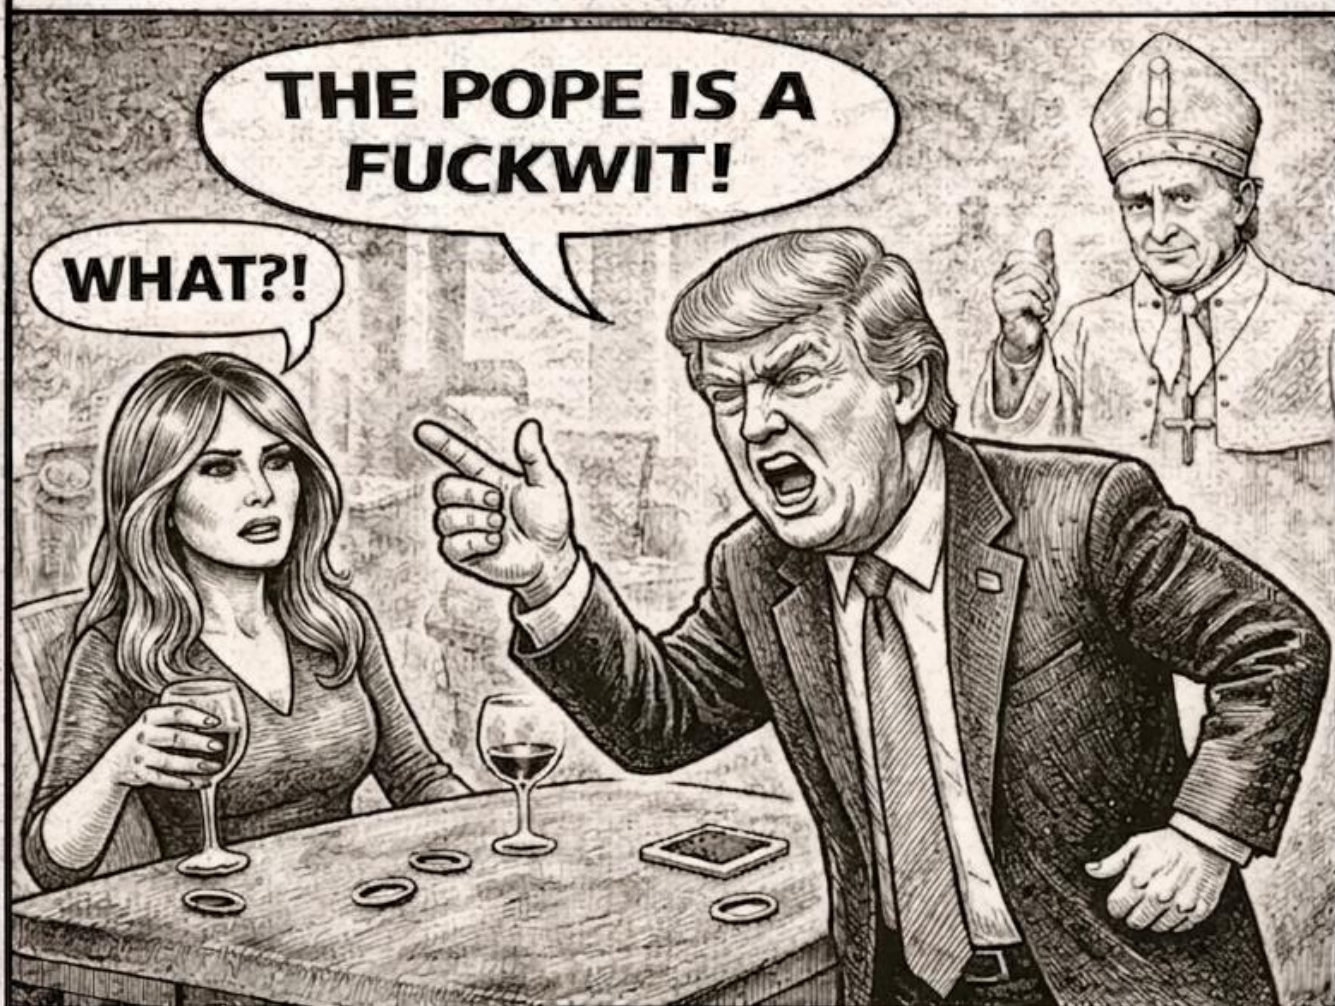

I quoted myself today.

WOLFING wolfing (verb):

The use of outrageous remarks to distract everyone's attention from a previous indiscretion.

Example: If your wife suggests that Jeffrey Epstein sold her to you, then just go out and call the pope a fuckwit.

When in danger of losing an argument, just call out something immensely

HAIRTYING

hairtying (noun):

The female human equivalent of cat spraying – marking their territory by the dropping of hair ties everywhere.

Example: Katie has left hair ties in every room of the house to signal her ownership.

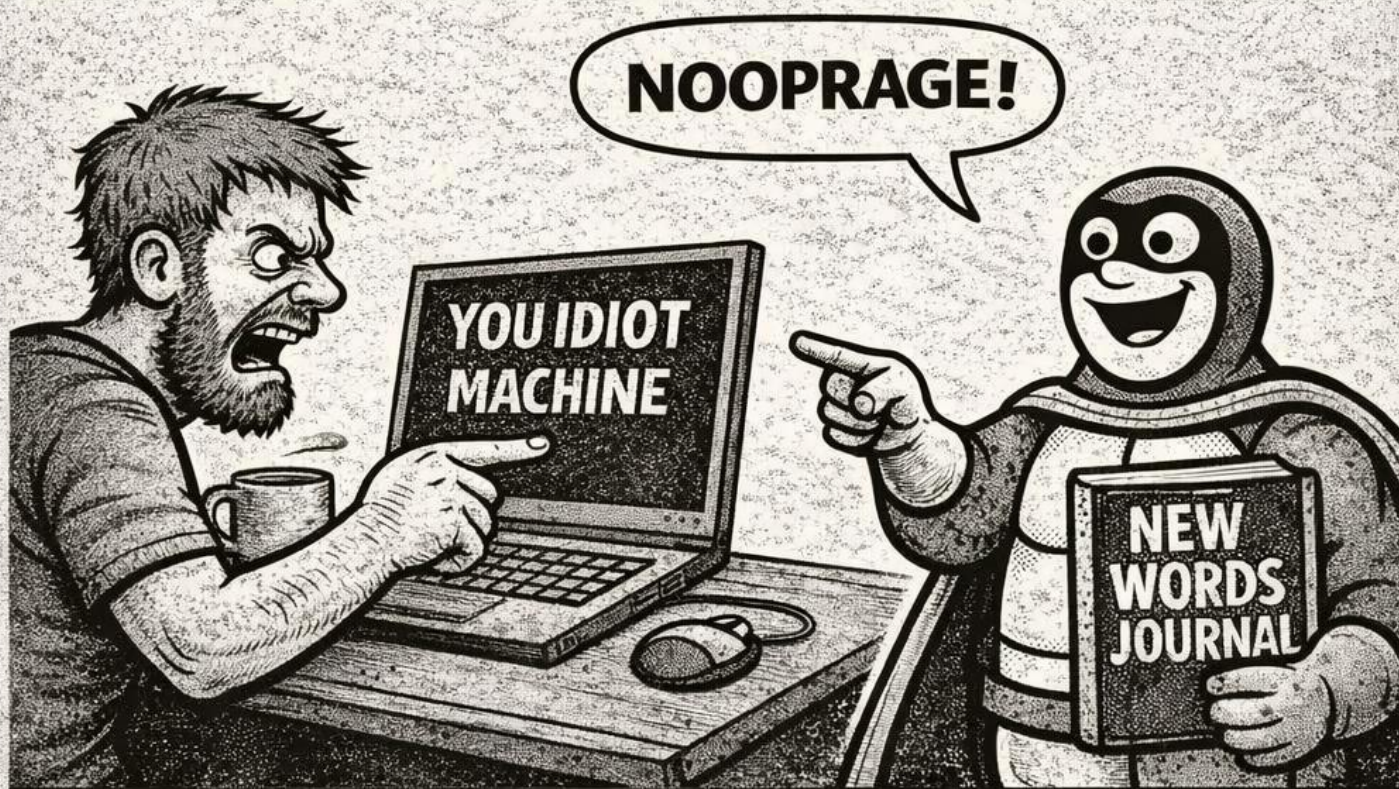

There will always be hair everywhere.

NOOPRAGE

Nooprage: swearing at an AI system in the expectation that it will alter its reasoning, behaviour, or output strategy in response.

A user-side intervention applied to a stateless or weakly stateful model, typically ineffective because the system does not update weights or policies during interaction.

Common in situations where deterministic or prompt-bounded systems are mistaken for adaptive agents capable of behavioural correction via emotional input.

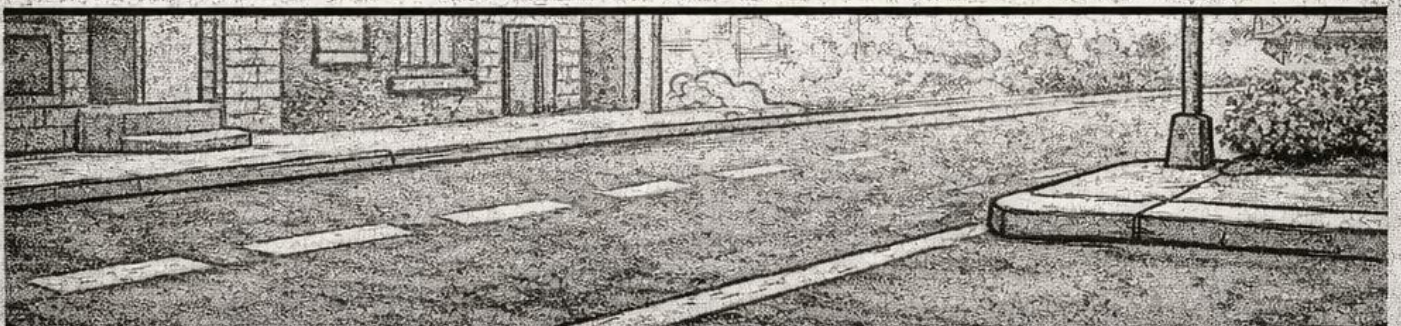

BONO

Bono: an annoying squeaking noise that won't go away. Sort of like that sound your brakes make when the pads need changing.

Common in situations where deterministic or prompt-bounded systems are mistaken for adaptive agents capable of behavioural correction via emotional input.

SIXTARD

Sixtard: a person that simply can't remember a six number code that is emailed or texted to them by some IT company in a vain attempt to create the perception that they care about security.

Common in those who regularly scramble to pass fake security layers.

SUSHIPHOBIA

Sushiphobia: a disorder characterized by a decreased tolerance to specific sensory input, triggering intense emotional, physiological, and behavioural responses such as rage, panic, or the need to flee. Misophonia is just one form of sushiphobia.

Similar to Misophonia, but with even more stimuli in its scope.

SPASMOLOGY

Spasmology: a tendency and desire to assign new meanings to old words

Spasmology?
That sounds incredibly dumb.

No, it's actually really cool. It means...

Often causes confusion and frustration in peers and the general populace.

New word.

iMerkin

A public transport seat fabric that is primarily blue with whatever weird arse abstract print you want adced in yellow, red and orange.

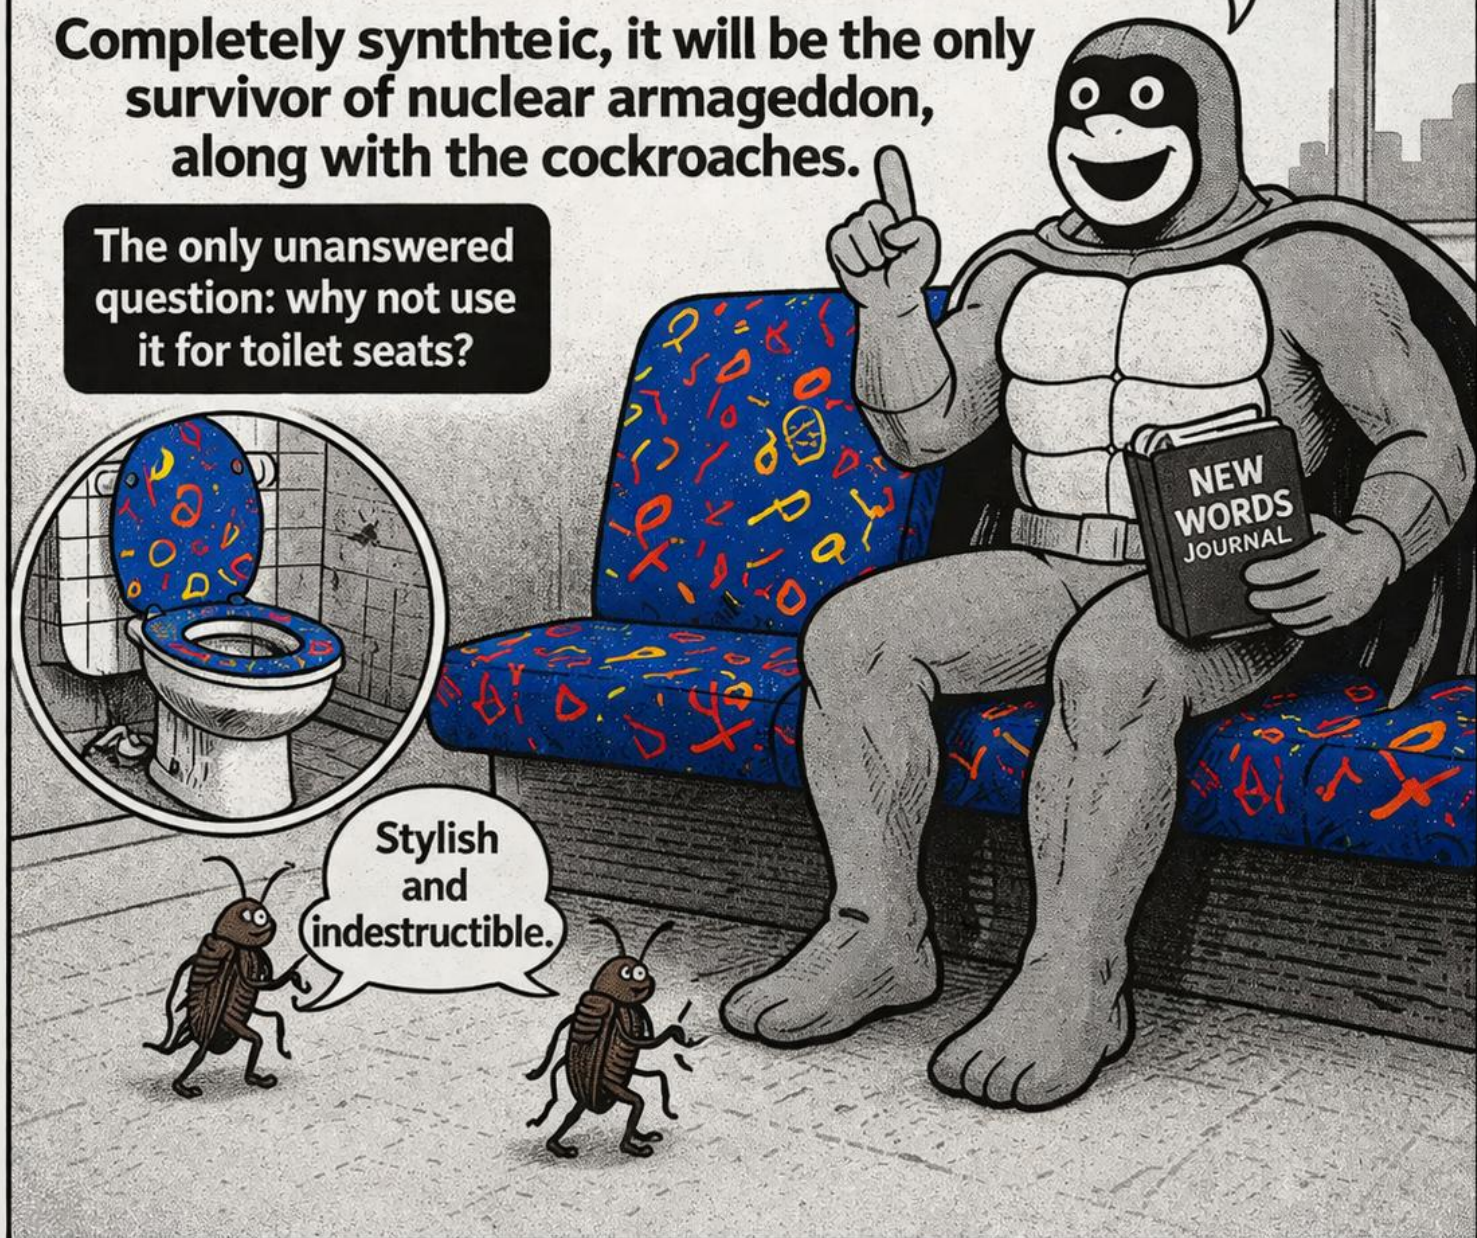

Completely synthteic, it will be the only survivor of nuclear armageddon, along with the cockroaches.

The only unanswered question: why not use it for toilet seats?

Tough, ugly and impossible to kill!

Stylish and indestructible.

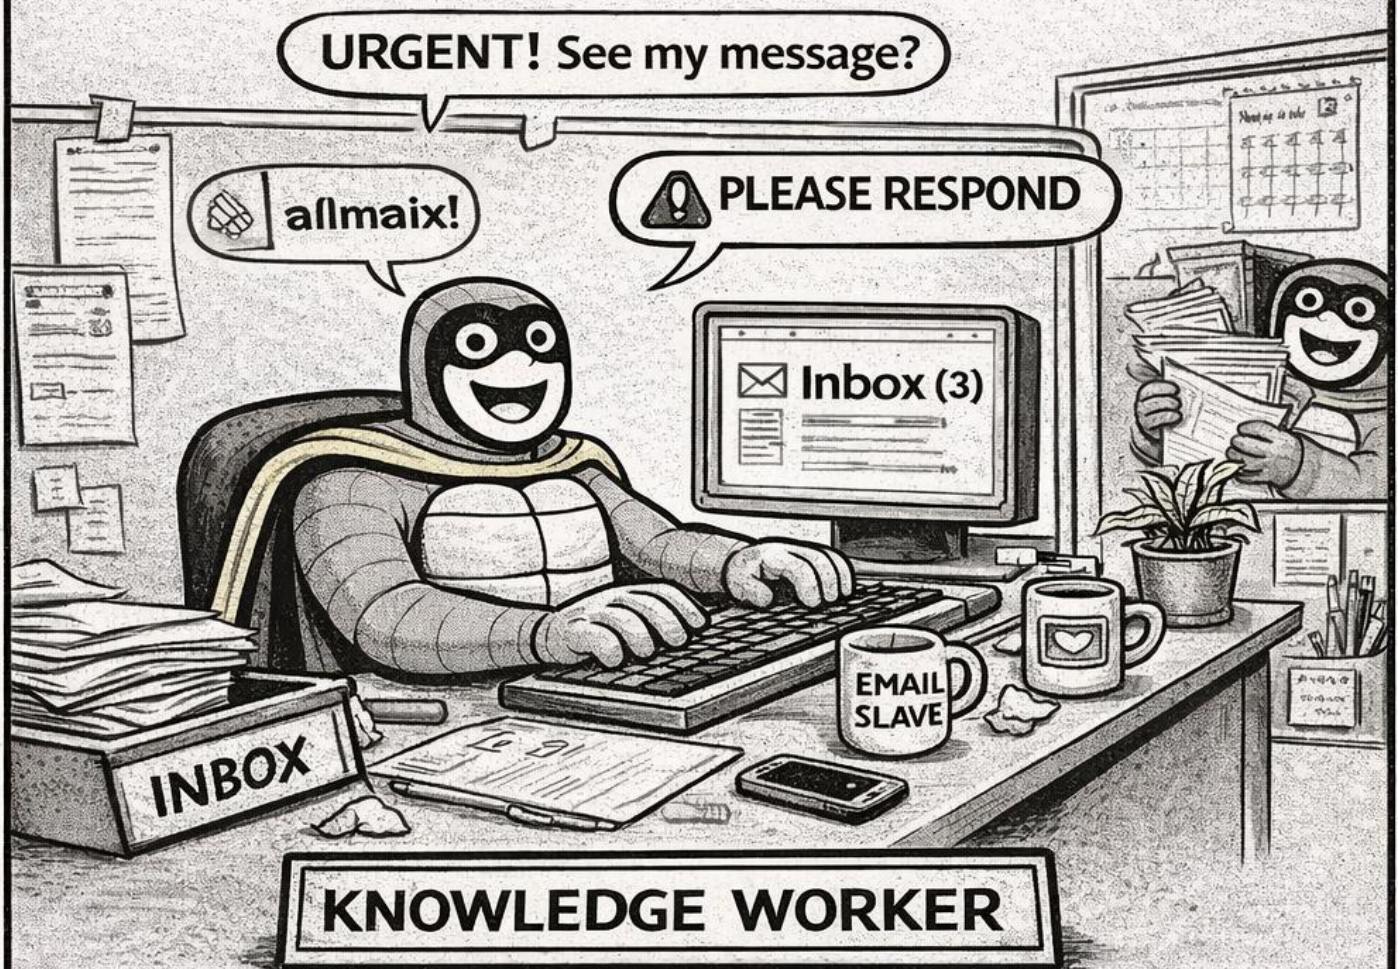

New word.

Knowledge Worker

A person whose employment consists entirely of writing to and replying to messages from similarly employed persons.

Otherwise known as an email agent.

KNOWLEDGE WORKER

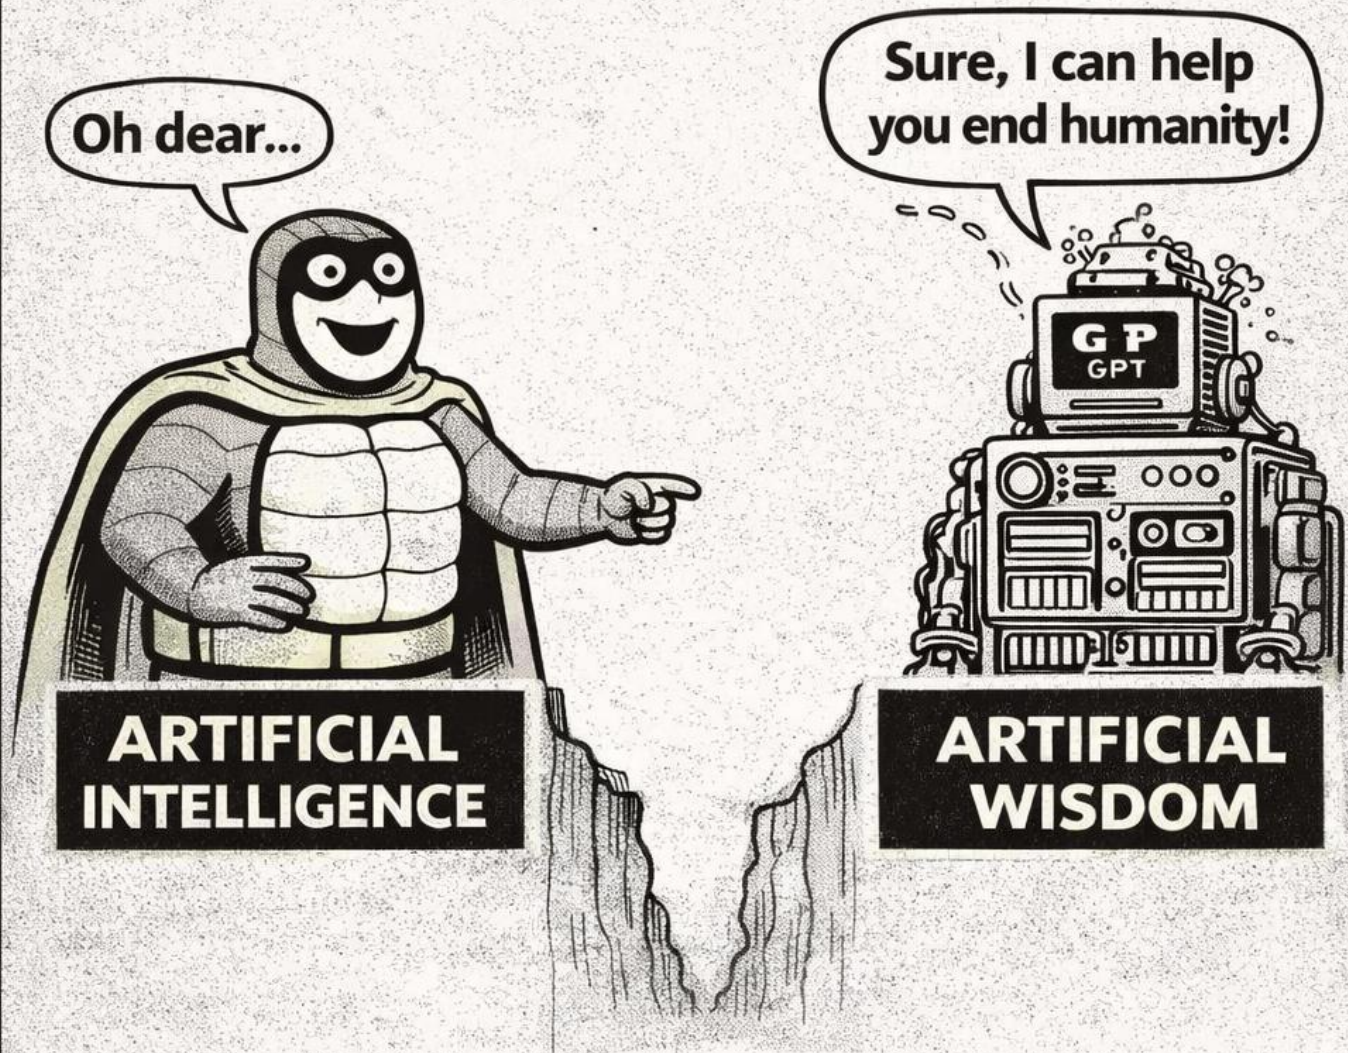

Otherwise known as an email agent.

New word.

Box Gap

the big difference between Artificial intelligence and Artificial wisdom.

Just ask GPT and you'll see what I mean.

The only unanswered question:
why not use it for toilet seats?

SKYROCKETS IN FLIGHT, AFTERNOON DELIGHT.
